INTRODUCTION

Dear Student and Parent(s),

This listing of scholarships was prepared to help you find money for college. The information in this booklet was compiled to provide you with a guideline of available resources. I am certain that you will find many good scholarship sources in this book.

The booklet is divided into ten sections listed on the content page. Carefully go through each section and select the scholarship programs that interest you. Give yourself a month grace period before the deadline to complete and send the applications, essays, and letters. Many scholarship applications are sent to our Guidance Office to be distributed so please check with us first. Other scholarships can only be applied to on-line, in that case, I provided a web-site address or, if not available, a contact address.

There are many other scholarships available to you through most colleges. As you decide which colleges you will be applying to request scholarship information from them directly. I also recommend that all students register on-line at fastweb.com. This is a free scholarship search engine that emails students scholarships based on information that you provide.

Good Luck!
